

OBITUARY.

Miss Emma Alexander.
Miss Emma Alexander, 87, died on Sunday afternoon at five o'clock at the Westcott home on Main street. Miss Alexander suffered a shock one week ago Saturday and from then until her death the greater part of the time she had remained unconscious. Miss Alexander was of one of the oldest families and lived the greater part of her life at the Alexander homestead, near the lake that bears the family name in the northern part of the town. Mrs. J. W. Atwood of Waterbury is a niece of the deceased.

Justice Baldwin.
The address of Chief Justice Baldwin at the laying of the cornerstone of the new state library and supreme court building a few days ago was one to be read and remembered. It was wisely adapted to the occasion, broad, comprehensive and optimistic. And that address convinced many people that the chief justice is the man to write the real and vital and significant history of Connecticut.—Bristol Press.

WILLIMANTIC

Fifty Per Cent. of Milk Samples Found Adulterated by Dairy Commissioner's Agent.

After careful analysis, 55 per cent of the milk samples taken from Willimantic dairies are found to be away below standard and show evidence of having been skimmed, watered or both.

Feed is good at this season of the year and consumers paying good money for milk think they should be given some guarantee that they are getting a substantial return for their money.

The dairy commissioner's department is all right as far as it goes, but semi-periodical visits by one of the commissioner's agents does not have the effect of a resident milk inspector sufficiently well paid to get right after the habitual offenders.

Commissioner Potter is to give the unscrupulous dealers a hearing and unless they can give satisfactory reasons prosecutions will follow.

FOUR HUNDRED ELMS
Can Be Sprayed, With $500 Available for That Purpose.

Men sent here by the Hartford firm that has the contract to spray the elm trees in the Lower Village, having been engaged by the American Thread company to do that work.

As soon as the contract with the Thread company is completed the men will spray the trees on other city property or have begun operations on the city. It is said that 400 trees can be sprayed with the $500 which is available for that purpose.

It is understood that the Windham Manufacturing company will have the elms on its property sprayed and the company has begun operations on the property in control of the state board of education may also be sprayed while the men are here. The machine is a cumbersome affair, being drawn by a pair of horses and requires three or four men to operate it to advantage.

Executive Committee to Meet.
There is to be a meeting of the executive committee of the King's Daughters and Sons this afternoon in the chapel of the First Congregational church.

The W. C. T. U. meets this (Monday) afternoon.

Mapping Route of Endurance Contest.
W. Whipple, with W. G. Faits and Chautauque, left for New York, coming in a large touring car. The machine is in the hands of the endurance contest to commence on June 21 and conclude June 25.

This particular car is car No. 1 in the contest and has been over the route from New York to Boston, making a map of the route and taking notes of the conditions of the road, dinner at the Hooker house Saturday noon. The big car attracted considerable attention, as it stood in front of the hotel.

NORWICH MAN
Fined for Theft of Lebanon Teacher's Wheel.

John Kramer, about 24 years old, who is known in Norwich, who was arrested Friday evening in South Windham by Captain Richmond, was before court Saturday morning charged with larceny. Kramer pleaded guilty and was fined $7 and costs. He stole a bicycle on the 13th of May at Lebanon, where he was working at the time as a farmhand.

Service at the Almshouse.
An interesting service was held at the almshouse Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock under the auspices of the King's Daughters and Sons. A singing constituted a portion of the meeting that was thoroughly appreciated by those present.

Windup of Enjoyable Series of Socials.
The last dance of the season was given in Washburn hall Saturday evening under the auspices of the Club. It was in the form of a social as well as a dance and proved very enjoyable. There was a large attendance and the members of the club were congratulated on the successful close of an enjoyable series. Music was furnished by Holmoids orchestra. Refreshments were served by a local caterer.
